HELP FOR WORKING WOMEN

Some Have to Keep on Until They Almost Drop. How Mrs. Conley Got Help.

Here is a letter from a woman who had to work, but was too weak and suffered too much to continue. How she regained health:

Frankfort, Ky.—"I suffered so much with female weakness that I could not do my own work, had to hire it done. I heard so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that I tried it. I took three bottles and I found it to be all you claim. Now I feel as well as ever I did and am able to do all my own work again. I recommend it to any woman suffering from female weakness. You may publish my letter if you wish."

—Mrs. JAMES CONLEY, 516 St. Clair St., Frankfort, Ky.

No woman suffering from any form of female troubles should lose hope until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

This famous remedy, the medicinal ingredients of which are derived from native roots and herbs, has for forty years proved to be a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism.

All women are invited to write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for special advice, it will be confidential.

Mrs. Vaughn Wins Mothers Thru Girls and Boys

WILL TELL WHAT GOOD FOOD DOES FOR SCHOOL CHILDREN—GIVES FREE LECTURES AND COOKERY LESSONS HERE NEXT WEEK

Mrs. Kate Brew Vaughn, the domestic science teacher who has been secured by the Capital Journal to give a series of lectures and cookery lessons in the Armory next week, is a woman with a mission. It is to arouse other women to the importance of good housekeeping methods and good home cooking. But this is not her only interest in life. Indeed, at the bottom of this and all her work, lies the desire to help boys and girls grow up into useful men and women. With three boys of her own, she is interested in anything which makes for better boyhood and manhood. As a mother and as a lecturer, she is blessed with a clear vision of a boy's nature and his needs. She believes in training which develops strong bodies and moral self-reliant characters, which enables them to think and to act clearly and rightly.

Thousands of mothers throughout the country are keeping house better and more contentedly, thousands of children are getting a better start in life with well prepared, nourishing foods, thousands of men are better appreciated as loving, hard working providers and many homes have been saved from shipwreck by the loving and wise counsel of this big hearted, sweet faced woman who makes helpfulness to others the end and aim of her existence.

This is Mrs. Vaughn's second visit to Salem. Every day next week she will give a helpful talk on homemaking ideals, right living, economical spending and kindred topics, and every day this will be followed by a lesson in good old-fashioned cooking by modern, scientific methods. All of these lectures and cookery lessons will be given at two-thirty in the afternoon except the one on Saturday which will be held in the morning. These six Better Foods Better Homes sessions will be held at the Armory and are entirely free to the women of Salem and vicinity. All are invited to attend and give Mrs. Vaughn a hearty welcome.

PINCHOT WOULD HAVE PROGRESSIVES STAY

Says Party Must Be Kept In tact to Make Republicans Be Good

Washington, June 2.—Gifford Pinchot, chief forester under Roosevelt, today spent considerable money advising progressives of which he is one, to maintain a separate organization, regardless of the republican convention's action at Chicago. In full-page newspaper ads he urged this course.

At the same time he urged the nomination of Roosevelt by both parties. Pinchot's plan calls for keeping the progressive party intact behind Roosevelt, while reminding republicans of the fact that it polled more votes in 1912 than the republican party.

He would have progressive unite with the republicans "to meet the present crisis," but after it is met, he says, the progressives should be in a position to have "something to say as to whether this nation shall be run in the interests of the magnates or the people."

To this end, says Pinchot, the progressive organization should be maintained in the states as well as national.
